INTRODUCTION TO BOOK ONE

When we walked in to the Chautauqua County Home and simply asked if there were any records from long ago, we had two delightful surprises: the trusting welcome with which we were met, and the number of volumes of records kept and cared for over a period of one hundred and sixty years. Anyone who uses these records owes a debt of gratitude to Carol Portman, Director of Medical Records, for locating and sharing these priceless volumes.

Although the series was not complete, we chose the earliest of the records and spent several months extracting the material from them and prepared for publication. Only then were the missing ledgers found, and although the process of extraction was not in chronological order, the resulting documents are. Hosanna!

To understand our purpose in making this compilation available, it is necessary to understand the function that the County Home and Asylum served during most of its first century.

In Chautauqua County, the first recorded sale of land was in 1803, and only after the War of 1812 did population expand. By the 1820's smaller townships were taken off from the original two, and each township had its own local officers, including a Supervisor and at least one Poor Master.

As in any society, there were those who were unable to provide for themselves and their families, and the Poor Master found ways to alleviate their plight. The penniless widow, the orphaned children, the terminally ill had nowhere to turn for help except to "The Town". The homeless were boarded at town expense in private homes until they could make their own way again, low bidders becoming the host family.

At the annual meeting of the County Board of Supervisors in 1830, it was decided to buy a farm and erect a building to house the poor, the ill, the feeble-minded and the lunatics of the county.

It would be a tragic error to regard the Alms House as a place of disgrace and degradation; it met several needs that are today met in specialized institutions. It was the hospital for the consumptives, for those with severe injuries, for difficult pregnancies. It was the shelter for battered women and neglected children. It provided charity when charity was indicated and it gave employment to those who asked for work. Families paid board and care if they were able, sometimes for many years.

And it kept records. In large leather-covered ledgers a clerk wrote one day after another, month after month, names of those who came and the town which would be charged for their expense, the ill who died and the babies who were born. Some of these people were the ancestors of families who are looking for them; we hope that we have helped in the search.

It is with quiet humility that I express my gratitude to Lois and Norwood Barris, without whom I should not have been a participant in this project. With kindness and patience they have gathered me into the fold of the computer-literate.

OVER THE HILL TO THE POORHOUSE

Over the hill to the poor-house I'm trugin' my weary way —
I, a woman of seventy, and only a trifle gray —
I, who am smart an' chipper, for all the years I've told,
As many another woman that's only half as old.

Over the hill to the poor-house — I can't quite make it clear!
Over the hill to the poor-house — and it seems so horrid queer!
Many a step I've taken a-toilin' to and fro,
But this is a sort of journey I never thought to go.

What is the use of heapin' on me a pauper's shame?
Am I lazy or crazy? am I blind or lame?
True, I am no so supple, no yet so awful stout;
But charity ain't no favor, if one can live without.

I am willin' and anxious an' ready any day
To work for a decent livin' an' pay my honest way;
For I can earn my victuals, an' more too, I'll be bound,
If anybody only is willin' to have me round.

Once I was young an' han'some — I was upon my soul —
Once my cheeks were roses, my eyes as black as coal;
And I can't remember, in them days, of hearin' people say,
For any kind of a reason, that I was in their way.

'T ain't no use of boastin', or talkin' over free,
But many a house an' home was open then to me;
Many a han'some offer I had from likely men,
And nobody ever hinted that I was a burden then.

And when to John I was married, sure he was good and smart,
But he and all neighbors would own I done my part;
For life was all before me, an' I was young an' strong,
And I worked the best that I could in tryin' to get along.

And so we worked together: and life was hard but gay,
With now and then a baby for to cheer us on our way;
Till we had half a dozen, an' all growed clean an' neat,
An' went to school like others, an' had enough to eat.

So we worked for the child'm, and raised 'em every one;
Worked for 'em summer and winter, just as we ought to 've done;
Only perhaps we humored 'em, which some good folks condemn,
But every couple's child'm's a heap the best to them.

Strange how much we think of our blessed little ones! —
I'd have died for my daughters, I'd have died for my sons!
And God he made that rule of love; but when we're old and gray,
I've noticed it sometimes somehow fails to work the other way.

Strange, another thing; when our boys an' girls was grown,
And when, exceptin' Charley, they'd left us there alone,
When John he nearer an' nearer come, an' dearer seemed to be,
The Lord of Host he come one day an' took him away from me.

Still I was bound to struggle, an' never to cringe or fall —
Still I worked for Charley, for Charley was now my all;
And Charley was pretty good to me, with scarce a word or frown,
Till at last he went a-courtin', and brought a wife from town.

She was somewhat dressy, an' hadn't a pleasant smile —
She was quite conceity, and carried a heap o' style;
But if ever I tried to be friends, I did with her, I know;
But she was hard and proud, an' I coundn't make it go.

She had an edication, an' that was good for her;
But when she twitted me on mine, 't was carryin' things too fur;
An' I told her once, 'fore company (an' it almost made her sick),
That I never swallowed a grammar, or 'et a 'rithmetic.

So 't was only a few days before the thing was done —
They was a family of themselves, and I another one;
And a very little cottage one family will do,
But I never have seen a house that was big enough for two.

An' I never could speak to suit her, never could please her eye,
An' it made me independent, an' then I didn't try;
But I was terribly staggered, an' felt it like a blow,
When Charley turned ag'in me, an' tolk me I could go.

I went to live with Susan, but susan's house was small,
And she was always a-hintin' how snug it was for us all;
And what with her husband's sisters, and what with child'm three,
'T was easy to discover that there wasn't room for me.

An' then I went to Thomas, the oldest son I've got,
For Thomas' buildings'd cover the half of an acre lot;
But all the child'm was on me — I couldn't stand their sauce —
And Thomas said I needn't think I was comin' there to boss.

An' then I wrote Rebecca, my girl who lives out West,
And to Isaac, not far from her — some twenty miles at best;
And one of 'em said 't was too warm there for anyone so old,
And t' other had an opinion the climate was too cold.

So they have shirked and slighted me, an' shifted me about —
So they have well-nigh soured me, an' wore my old heart out;
But still I've born up pretty well, an' wasn't much put down,
Till Charley went to the poor-master, an' put me on the town.

Over the hill to the poor-house — my child'm dear, good-by!
Many a night I've watched you when only God was nigh;
And God'll judge between us; but I will al'ays pray
That you shall never suffer the half I do today.

WILL M. CARLETON

INTRODUCTION TO PART I

The first hand-written book begins with this explanation

CHAUTAUQUE POOR RECORDS JAN 1833

Names of Persons sent to the Poor House: ages, Places of nativity, towns from which sent, time [date] committed, discharged, &c &c.

The first entry was made 1 January 1833 and continue into 1850. Entries were made chronologically. We have alphabetized them to aid researchers.

The date immediately following the name is that of first admittance. Following is the information gathered at that admission, copied here as found, except the substitution of "b" (for born) for their term "nativity".

No assumptions are made here; family relationships are shown only if they appear in the originals. It is quite possible that a person may be listed twice if his name is spelled differently or if it could be interpreted as a different person. In cases where additional information of importance is known to exist in other obscure records, attention is called to a "Note" at the end of the section.

There is no attempt to interpret any words or conditions found in these volumes. The purpose here is to lay out information for genealogical use, information recorded several generations ago, and the reader assumes the responsibility for his own assimilation of that information.

RECORD OF INMATES 1843-1848

From the beginning, and continuing through the period covered in this volume, an attendance list was published of those in residence on the day that the Board of Supervisors met. Those annual lists are not included in this compilation because they are repetitive; all the names appear in the chronological listings.

There is, however, a short period of time when more information was recorded in the lists: from 1843 through 1848 each year the names were listed with the ages given, and also the reason for that person's being in the Alms House. Those six lists are incorporated here, recorded age signifying attendance.

These are the causes, these are the ages, this is the way the facts appear in the original ledger. There has been no attempt to edit recorded data: that is the privilege of the reader.

PART TWO

Records in Part II are taken from a large leather covered ledger which is designated as

Chautauque Poor Records
January 1850

Entries are in chronological order and cover the years 1850 through 1867. Everything thought to be of interest to the genealogist has been copied here.

Because it was among the first of the books available to us, it was extracted before the earlier Part I which was found a year later.

The format of the two extracting projects differs slightly — mainly in the placement of the date of admission. In this Part II, the date of admission is at the right-hand margin, preceded by the weeks and days the person stayed after that date.

Some names may appear more than once because spelling and recorded age may vary. If a judgment call seemed indicated, here it is — for you to make.

DEATHS 1850-1867

Although deaths were recorded in the chronological log in each of the ledgers, it is in the second volume where an attempt was made to list them together at the end of each year.

The way they are recorded in the 1850-1867 ledger seems to indicate that the clerk was following a new directive and having difficulty with an unfamiliar task. The lists are cramped into the left-over corners of pages, the writing often barely legible.

It is noted here and also in the Supervisors' Reports that a new cemetery was begun in 1864, and it is in that year when grave numbers were assigned.
